February 22, 2008

Maybe next week.....I feel like a true Cubs fan with a line like that (Maybe next season!). I am hoping that the weather will warm up for the kids to have the opportunity to go outside. They have been real troopers this month! Thank you for sending them dressed for the weather - spring can't get here soon enough:)

Here are some highlights from this week:

- In math we reviewed multiplication and division. We also reviewed different math vocabulary.
- In science the third graders learned about how matter changes.
- In language arts we read Yippee Yay! and learned about helping verbs - do you remember what helping verbs are?:)
- In social studies we continued our timeline on early Americans.

Thank you for all that you do for your child.

ISAT Snacks

I will be purchasing snacks for the kids to enjoy during the week of ISAT testing. If you could donate $1 for the treats, I would really appreciate it! Thanks so much for all your support!

This and That

- Book reports are due on February 25th. I will extend the deadline to the 26th in case anyone needs an extra day!
- Parent access to grades will be turned off on Monday, February 25th and will reopen after school on Friday, March 7. Feel free to check grades Sunday night - they will be updated.
- Please remember to sign in and out of the office each chance you visit. If you are bringing something that your child has forgotten (ie. glasses, books, homework), feel free to leave it in the office for your child to pick up.
- Thank you so much for bringing in items for the Ice Cream Sundae Party! The kids loved the treats:) Hopefully there were not many belly aches that night!
