We also have a Facebook. There are a few questions for you or a parent to answer in order to get in. You may have to view it on a computer in order to see them

Meet your new executives: Aniya Thompson (president), Aashish Thakur (vice president), Megan Parent (secretary), Andrew Short (treasurer), and Ivy Goeckner (historian).

Dues are $10, it would be preferable to get them in by the next meeting (October sixth).

Information on how to turn them in can be found here:

We are doing a digital show festival this year called “Everywhere is a Stage” with several of the schools in our area. You can be cast in any of the twelve shows. There will be jobs for tech (more information about that to come). Auditions are open from now through the eighth.

Information about the auditions, shows, and more can be found at the following site:

There is a potential fundraising opportunity where small shows can take place on front lawns. If you are interested in participating, please let us know.
